WHY DO WE DO THAT?

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

"Is gossip a mortal sin?"

To really ask this question, we must consider the Eighth Commandment: "You shall not bear false witness."

In its reflections on this commandment, the Catechism invites us to not only think about what bearing "false witness" means, but to also consider how we understand the truth and how we communicate more broadly. This is why so much of this section of the Catechism has to do with the gift of language. With this in mind, we notice that the word "gossip" isn't used. Instead, we find the words "detraction" and "calumny," which are actually two forms that gossip can take, and both can be quite serious.

First, detraction is the revealing of another's faults and failings, without morally valid reasons. Calumny is saying something about another person that is untrue, and it is sinful because it "harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgements." In all of our communication, we have to always recognize that we have a moral obligation to the truth, and to always work to protect the reputation and honor of our neighbors.

Gossip can, in fact, prove to be a very serious sin. After all, the Catechism reminds us: "No one is bound to reveal the truth to someone who does not have the right to know it." When we have gossiped, especially if we are aware we have damaged another person's good name or reputation, we want to make every effort to undo the damage we have done, including seeking the grace and forgiveness offered in the Sacrament of Reconciliation.
